DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because Figure 3 has superimposed characters that hinder reading. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smith et al. US Patent No. 5,949,289.

Regarding independent Claim 1, Smith et al. discloses in Figures 1-3 a phase-locked loop (10), comprising: a phase detector (16), a charge pump (18) coupled to the phase detector (16), a low pass filter (20) coupled to the charge pump (18), and a voltage control oscillator (24) coupled to the charge pump (18 via 20 and 22) and a supply voltage (VCC), wherein the low pass filter (20) inputs a control voltage (LFVIN) to the voltage controlled oscillator (24) for generation of an output clock (12); and a voltage regulator (22) coupled to an output of the low pass filter (20), the voltage regulator (22) for sensing the control voltage (LFVIN) during normal operation of the phase-locked loop (10), and for dynamically adjusting the supply voltage (VCC) in response to the control voltage (LFVIN), such that the phase-locked loop (10) maintains the control voltage (LFVIN) within a predefined range of a reference voltage (LF, see Col.2, lines 20-39, Col.4, lines 58-63).

Regarding Claim 2, the regulator 22 is inherently capable of performing the functional recitation "uses the control voltage as an error signal that is proportionate to process/temperature drift occurring in the PLL" because the structure is the same as the device recited.

Regarding Claims 9-11, these method claims are the same in scope as apparatus claim 1, which would necessarily perform the method claimed and therefore, the claims are rejected.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-18 are allowed.

Claims 3-8, 12-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the best prior art of record, Smith et al, taken alone or in combination of other references, does not teach or fairly suggest a summing node (Claims 3-8, 12-18).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Yamaguchi discloses a PLL with power supply filters to minimize phase fluctuation.
